

MORNING APPEAL

SUNDAY.....DECEMBER 10

L. P. Fisher, newspapers advertising agents, 21 Merchants' Exchange, San Francisco, is our authorized agent. This paper is kept on file in his office.

IN VIEW OF FINANCE.

President Cleveland's reference to the silver question accords with his well known views in favor of the single gold standard, while his suggestion as to the issue of bonds is a logical sequence of those views. With half the money of redemption eliminated from the foundation of credits and the monthly addition to the currency, which was the saving clause of the Sherman law, cut off, the issue of bonds indefinitely and for the indefinite sums is the only alternative for a return to the gold and silver basis money of the constitution. The mintage rights of silver must be restored, or the country must be burdened with an ever increasing interest bearing debt.

Mr. Cleveland recognizes that the relief which was promised to follow the cessation of silver purchased by the government has not been realized, but he seeks to encourage the belief that the prophecy will be ultimately fulfilled—rather cold comfort to the country. He sincerely hopes that silver agitation will cease and that efforts to procure legislation favorable to silver will be indefinitely deferred. The hope is expressed in a prudent and diplomatic way, which is an indirect recognition of the bimetallic sentiment of the nation and about all the recognition that sentiment receives in the message.

The whole purport of the President's remarks on silver point to a desire that the silver issue may be allowed to drop out of sight. It will not be questioned since his message to the special session of Congress, and since the extraordinary part he took in securing unconditional repeal, that Mr. Cleveland is at least as unfriendly to the restoration of silver as any public man in the United States—as John Sherman, for instance. Yet he asks Congress to desist from any legislation on the subject, save only such as would place the silver interest totally in his charge, to be advanced when in his discretion its advance should become practicable.—Denver News.

THE KICKING GAZETTE.

If there is any possible chance for the Reno Gazette to find fault it never allows the opportunity to pass. On Friday it opened on Mr. Foote because some of his doggers advertising his series of performances for the Nevada Fair fund were printed in San Francisco. The effect of the article could only have been to keep a few away from his performance.

The doggers above alluded to were printed by Sterret and Co. of San Francisco and donated by that firm to the Nevada Fair fund as a personal compliment to Mr. Foote.

The Gazette closes its article as follows: It is very kind of Mr. Foote to volunteer to appear on the boards in this commonwealth for the benefit of Nevada, and it should be appreciated, and undoubtedly will, but asking the press of this State to work for nothing and board itself, and go to San Francisco for doggers that could have been printed at home, is drawing the line a little too fine, it occurs to us.

Now Mr. Foote never asked the papers to work for nothing, but all the papers where Mr. Foote played had sufficient public spirit to donate the advertising and printing to help a public enterprise.

Foster's Forecast.

Foster says: The next storm wave will reach the Pacific Coast about the 14th, close of 15th, the Great Central valleys from 16th, to 18th, and the Eastern States about the 19th.

This disturbance will spend most of its principal force in the western portion of the Great Central valleys.

The warm wave will cross the Western mountains about the 14th, the Great Central valleys about the 16th and the Eastern States about the 18th.

A cool wave of more than usual force will cross the Western mountains about the 17th, the Great Central valleys about the 19th, and the Eastern States about the 21st.

From now on the Capital Restaurant will furnish tickets good for 21 meals for $4.00 or $18 per month. For $7 you can get a ticket for 21 meals which entitles you to chicken, porterhouse or oysters served every meal. Private lunches or dinner parties furnished for $10 and upwards. o81m

Prof. L. Zimmer will furnish music for balls, parties, private and public entertainments, and give instructions on ten instruments; violin and mandolin a specialty. Apply at Ormsby House.
